COVER STORY: THE NEW YORK TIMES MAGAZINE

Thin light grey from the "stone collection" is inspired by nature: stone formation, undulations, organic patterning (referred to indicate the natural texture of sedimentary rocks). This tile, measuring 100x100 cm, is ideally suited to applications such as showers and facades, due to its double polished design, with a thickness of 10 mm and a soft light grey color. This light grey not only enhances your space with a touch of beauty but also guarantees durability and elegance in any architectural project.

The Aqua side from Gessner collection is inspired by the fascinating "water" phenomenon in Yosemite National Park, where the setting sun illuminates the waterfall making it visually a spectacle of life. This design concept captures the dramatic interplay of light and natural elements, reflecting the setting beauty and warmth of this rare event. Aqua adds a touch of modern and elegance, making it the perfect choice for business and refined interiors.
