

This rolling composition features a valley now growing out of a cracked marble slab, revealing rootling and life-forming, organic elements. The stone comes with golden veins, running through it, and is surrounded by white, dark, and green mountain landscape in the background. The white, as branches of the tree and the white, veins of the marble, create a landscape, ideal of strength and lightness, using a stone that is both hard and soft.

The winter storm is a quiet, steady rain or a cold, steady snow. The rain falls softly on the glass of your car window, and the snow falls like a blanket on the roof of your car. The rain is a steady, steady rain, and the snow is a steady, steady snow. The rain is a steady, steady rain, and the snow is a steady, steady snow. The rain is a steady, steady rain, and the snow is a steady, steady snow.

Il divano è disponibile in due versioni: con e senza braccioli. Le dimensioni sono indicate in cm.

This artwork captures a striking contrast between cracked marble textures using two colors, white and beige. The use of white and beige creates a sense of depth, highlighting the rugged, weathered surface and the sharp, angular cracks. The overall composition is dynamic, with the large, angular rock formation dominating the foreground and the smaller, more delicate elements in the background.

The design of the space is a result of a collaborative effort between the architect and the client, aiming to create a functional and aesthetically pleasing environment.

The design resembles a surreal landscape of snow-covered, protruding formations of ice, flowing into the water under waves, with its smooth and ethereal appearance, evokes a sense of tranquility and purity. The delicate blend of white and grey elements creates a serene atmosphere, evoking the beauty of nature's harmony between strength and softness.

The central feature of the sky is a large, glowing, and somewhat irregularly shaped object, possibly a comet or a small planet, with a bright, glowing core and a long, thin, and slightly curved tail. The object is surrounded by a dense, dark, and somewhat irregular cloud of gas and dust, which is illuminated by the bright light of the central object. The background is a dark, starry sky with a few bright stars visible. The overall scene is a dramatic and awe-inspiring depiction of a celestial event, possibly a comet or a small planet passing near Earth.
